

LIBERTY – EQUALITY – FRATERNITY

Through our free will, we as human beings liberate the power of goodness.
When we live out our free will together, we create a good society.
When we all together live out our free will, we create an ideal society.
A society without hate, war and violence.

Through enlightenment, and by helping each other, we create this.
Not by force and belligerent power.

The experience of all the evil and violence in our time, this is because; - we by force once started to obstruct and take away each other's free will and independence.
And so on, eye by eye, tooth by tooth, this has developed.
And the world has become what it is.

To day we mobilize all to repair the damage. This by controlling each other's willpower. -
Still by the use of force. We still legitimate the use of force, to secure us against new force encroachments, and to equalize the balance of power.
But the use of force does not give lasting results. The world is telling.

It is only by the free will, voluntariness, we create lasting good solutions.

This because, the free will power in its nature always is good.
Because it is only the free will which is giving the individual its own power of judgment, and the ability to reject the evil.

Giving freedom to another human being, is therefore never any threat or damage to the society as a whole. It is when we obstruct or take away the freedom, the damage comes into existence.

Freedom is an obligant principle.
Freedom is a redeeming and maintaining principle.
Freedom is an eternal principle !

This because the freedom of one single individual, always is completely depended on the freedom of all others. Building the society and the world based on voluntariness, therefore never imply any danger to us humans as community.

True Freedom, - lasting freedom and peace among people, we experience when we without fear, do trust our own and others free will.
Trust that the free will power always is bringing the best.

Therefore it is only fear itself, we have to conquer.
When fear is conquered, we trust ourselves, and we act with independence and responsibility, to the best for all.

True Freedom is a network of human beings who without fear are living together out of free will, independence and responsibility.

Necessary is it therefore, that we define love as the true work of man.
Because the true meaning of love, - is giving freedom.

LIBERTY – EQUALITY – FRATERNITY

among people is

Love

A WORLD WITHOUT VIOLENCE

We are in a global fight against violence and terror.

The enemy is no longer only defined as countries and leaders, but as groups, cells, organizations, networks, and single individuals.

And today, even with the most intensified intelligence and supervision in history, the enemy lives among us and has no marks.

When we kick a ball against a wall, it returns.

Every action creates a reaction.

Individual action creates a reaction by the society.

Action by the society creates a reaction by the individual.

Violence, war and terror world-wide, is by this a reaction of the use of force and violence world-wide.

Violence is violence. No matter from whom or which side.

By continued use of force and violence, we only nourish and increase the power of violence, which seeks new ways and individuals to announce, and strike back.

Like there is light and darkness in the world, there is good and evil.
These are forces living inside us all.

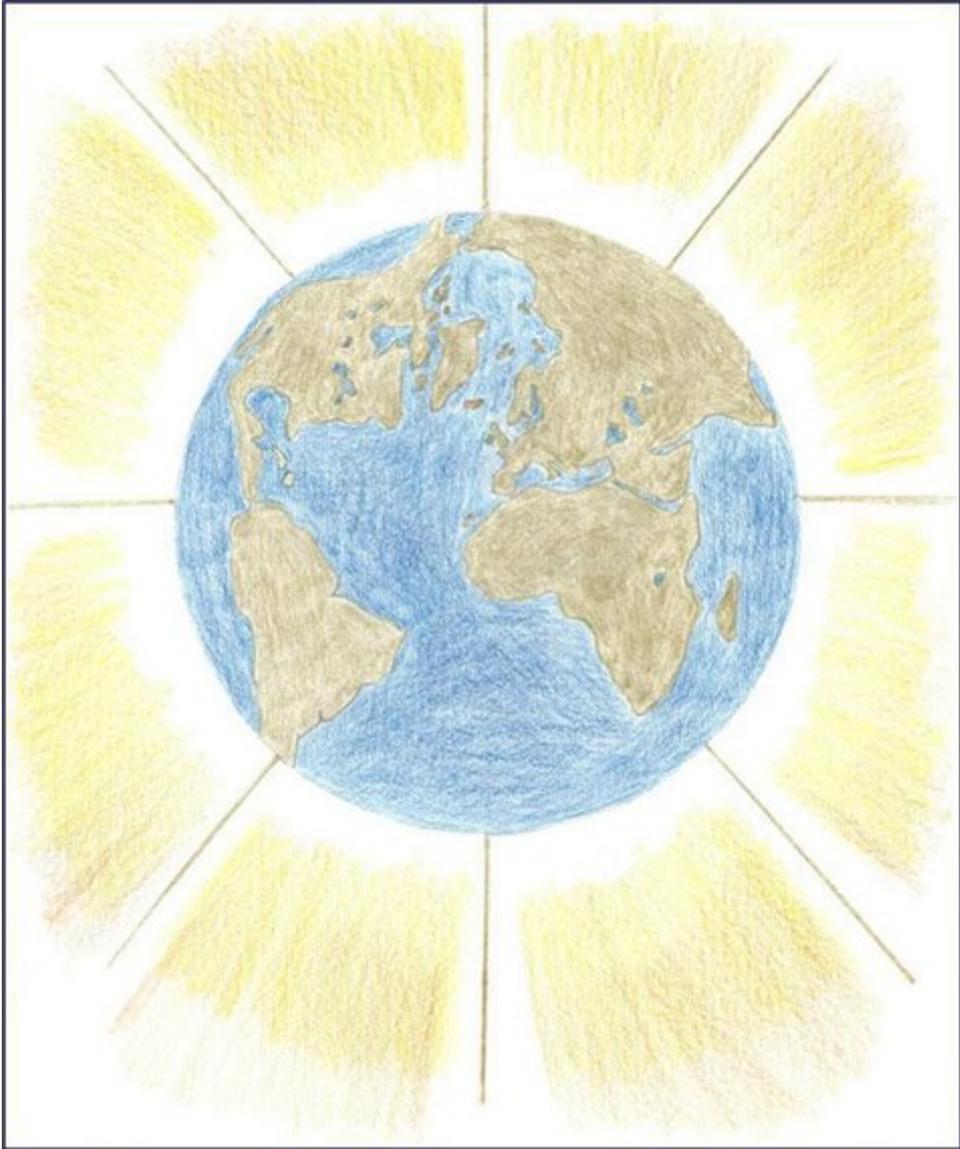

It is difficult to catch the ray of light, by the grasp of the hand.
Likewise the darkness and the evil.

We therefore never succeed liberating ourselves from the violence by continued use of force. We succeed by seeking the free spirit within nourishing the good.

And by love, - understanding, respect, forgiveness, gratitude, care and enlightenment, the good spirit inside of us all will empower and react. - And the society will bloom and flourish of free, loving and secure citizens.

Our most important intelligence is therefore, not searching for enemies out in the world. But to seek and find the free good spirit inside.

Our strongest tool, as individuals and as society, is therefore:
To put the free good spirit into action !

A WORLD IN SERVICE

*We are born free
By this Act towards one another in the spirit of brotherhood*

Every day we work and share what we are creating.

From the public point of view;
the goal is that we all as citizens shall benefit from the common goods and benefits, - experience prosperity and life-quality.

As foundation to reach this goal, we use a tool: MONEY

To solve challenges at the local, national and global level, money has become more and more the depending remedy for creating it better.

The society itself has become a firm, where we all are accountable to each other.
All activity, - our work, our diseases, death and repose, - from human aid, - to the exchange of all concrete things, we measure and count into a money-value.

Valuable work has become, what gains profit in money.

A human life, every single one of us, included the children, has become an income item & an expense item.

The more we contribute in the way of money, the more profitable we are.

We have created premises and norms for whom and what, we define as profitable.
- Whom and which human life we see as an income item, and whom we see as an expense.

Individuals who do not earn money by themselves, we see as an expenditure.
Because we by economical thinking and system, no longer manage to see each other as equal, and equal valuable as fellow human beings.

Valuable and profitable we become, first when we manage to put what we are, and what we do, as a post into the social-economical account system, as an economical profit.

The goal of any society should be, and hopefully is, life-quality.
And life-quality implies in basic: To love and being loved.

It implies to be alive, exist and live as a human being, - create and share from the heart, - help, please, comfort, show respect, take responsibility and work together.
With the goal of living together in peace and freedom.

But money has become more and more a goal in itself.

We therefore count human beings and states in credit and with fortune as rich.
And they in debit and debt as poor.
But being "rich" in a human point of view, is not being rich on money.

Riches we find in the heart.

We are to day so captured by the money, its value, law and system, that we have to go the way of collecting and exchanging money, instead of helping each other directly, what life really requires.
This because all work, including rescuing life, has to be valued, controlled and accounted into money.

But for two people truly in love, money is not the crucial and defining.

A human in love, gives out of the eternal perspective.
It gives easily and unconditionally from the heart, without demanding anything in return.
Giving something freely from the heart, does not create a feeling of debt to others.
- It creates gratitude, joy, peace and freedom.

But when a person no longer experiences to be loved, the feeling of being alone and having dept, turns into a struggle.

And so, - creating, sharing and giving something to others, turns into a demand of return,
- this to survive, pay dept, satisfy the system and the development.

Through generations this has developed into a global system.

And supported by taxes, laws, duty and rules we do all the best we can, to secure as many as possible to survive and live a good life.

But today we do se the result.

Money has not created life-quality, peace, freedom, and happiness for all.

Instead we experience distrust, greed, unfair distribution of resources, unstability, increased differences, suppression, - the cost nature, pollution, hunger and diseases.

And money gives strength, - strength gives power, - and power leads to use of force,
- struggle for more power, - war and destrutions, - people on the run, - refugees.

*

Politics is to create and share, on the foundation of human values.

We are human beings.

True politics is therefore;

what everyone of us free and unconditionally create and share, what we need in life,
- without demanding anything in return.

We know today how much of our energy, our lives, and loss of life, - because of the struggling for earning, managing, controlling and dividing the money.

Money is not the very reason for being alive and the experience of human dignity.

It is what we are, - and by heart do and create for each other.

As basic value it is therefore;

- Trust, respect, care and humanity we need.
- We need the freedom to take responsibility, create, share and help each other directly.
- We need to love each other, and live in peace and freedom with each other.
- We need the freedom to serve each other.

The best in life

is free

A smile - a helping hand - a meal

We need

A WORLD IN SERVICE

Yes – such is life

So vulnerable that the most cautious step may not carry until tomorrow

So strong that the next step the first movement opens for the most secure

Ja - slike er livet

Så sårbart
at det mest varsomme skritt kanskje ikke bare blir i morgen

Så sterkt
at det eneste skritt
den første bevegelse åpner for det aller
tryggeste
